DETAILED ACTION

1. This is in response to the amendment filed on 2 September 2008.
2. Claims 1-22 are pending in the application.
3. Claims 1-22 have been rejected.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

4. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 30 July 2008 has been entered.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-22 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

As to independent claim 1, Safadi et al discloses a method of manipulating a stream of video data in a point of deployment module device, comprising:

at the point of deployment module device [0013];

receiving a stream of video data from a host television receiver device, the stream of video data being received by the host television receiver device from a multimedia broadcaster and being encoded according to a first coding [0017];

transcoding the stream of video data associated with the host television receiver device to convert the stream of video data to a second coding, producing a transcoded data stream [0032]; and sending the transcoded data stream back to the host television receiver device [0032].

As to claims 2 and 13, Safadi et al discloses that the stream of video data includes encrypted data [0041].

As to claims 3 and 14, Safadi et al discloses decrypting the encrypted data [0029].

As to claims 4 and 15, Safadi et al discloses encrypting the transcoded data stream [0041].

As to claims 5, 9, 16 and 20, Safadi et al discloses that the second coding comprises MPEG compliant coding [0015].

As to claims 6, 10, 17 and 21, Safadi et al discloses that the point of deployment module comprises a point of deployment module compliant with an OpenCable™ standard format [0013].

As to claims 7, 11, 18 and 22, Safadi et al discloses that the second coding comprises MPEG 2 compliant coding [0032]. Safadi et al discloses that the first coding comprises one of MPEG 4 compliant coding, MPEG 7 compliant coding, Wavelet compression coding, and AVC coding [0015].

As to independent claim 8, Safadi et al discloses a method of manipulating a stream of video data in a point of deployment module device, comprising:

at the point of deployment module device [0013]:

receiving a stream of video data from a host television receiver device, the stream of video data being received by the host television receiver device from a multimedia broadcaster and being encrypted and encoded according to a first coding [0041];

decrypting the encrypted data [0029];

transcoding the stream of video data associated with the host television receiver device to convert the stream of video data to a second coding, producing a transcoded data stream [0032];

encrypting the transcoded data stream [0041]; and sending the encrypted transcoded data stream back to the host television receiver device [0032].

As to independent claim 12, Safadi et al discloses a point of deployment module device for manipulation of a stream of data, comprising:

means forming a part of the point of deployment module device for receiving a stream of video data from a host television receiver device, the stream of video data being received by the host television receiver device from a multimedia broadcaster and being encoded according to a first coding [0017];

a transcoder forming a part of the point of deployment module device that transcodes the stream of video data to convert the stream of video data to a second coding, producing a transcoded data stream [0032]; and means forming a part of the point of deployment module device for sending the transcoded data stream back to the host television receiver device [0032].

As to independent claim 19, Safadi et al discloses a point of deployment module device for manipulation of a stream of data, comprising:

means forming a part of the point of deployment module device for receiving a stream of video data from a host television receiver device [0017], the stream of video data being received by the host television receiver device from a multimedia broadcaster and being encrypted and encoded according to a first coding [0041];

a decrypter forming a part of the point of deployment module device that decrypts the encrypted data [0029];

a transcoder forming a part of the point of deployment module device that transcodes the stream of video data associated with the host television receiver device to convert the stream of video data to a second coding, producing a transcoded data stream [0032];

an encrypter forming a part of the point of deployment module device that encrypts the transcoded data stream [0041]; and means forming a part of the point of deployment module device for sending the encrypted transcoded data stream back to the host television receiver device [0032].
